DAVIS & FELMY.

The Texas farmers buy approximately 100 car loads of pork per week while hogs can be raised as cheap on a Texas farm as in any state in the Union. In fact, all the necessities and most all the luxuries of life can be raised in Texas and by so doing we will solve many of our perplexing problems relating to the high cost of living.

Officers in New Orleans believe they have captured Ben Myatt, the Falls county man who brutally murdered his wife and then played crazy. He afterwards escaped from jail in Corsicana.

A Dreadful Sight

to H. J. Barnum, of Freeville, N. Y., was the fever sore that had plagued his life for years in spite of many remedies he tried. At last he used Bucklin's Arnica Salve and wrote, "it has entirely healed with scarcely a scar left." Heals burns, boils, eczema, cuts, bruises, swellings, corns and piles like magic. Only 25c at all Druggists.

Stubborn Case

"I was under the treatment of two doctors," writes Mrs. R. L. Phillips, of Indian Valley, Va., "and they pronounced my case a very stubborn one, of womanly weakness. I was not able to sit up, when I commenced to take Cardui.

I used it about one week, before I saw much change. Now, the severe pain, that had been in my side for years, has gone, and I don't suffer at all. I am feeling better than in a long time, and cannot speak too highly of Cardui."

Pensions For The Clergy.

Whatever any man may think of the wisdom of pension laws such as are in force in the nation and in many of the states, there can be no question in the mind of any fair-minded man but that there should be made, by all of the various religious denominations, systematic, permanent and ample provision for aged and infirm clergymen.

Most of the churches have some character of organization the purpose of which is to provide a fund for the support of ministers who are no longer able to do active ministerial work, but the fund of no denomination is adequate for the very worthy purpose.

The Episcopal church has entered upon the task of raising $5,000,000, the interest upon which is to be applied to the support of aged or infirm clergymen, and the movement should receive cordial support, not only by members of that denomination, but by the general public.

The United States Government is paying out something like $140,000,000 per annum to those who served in the war which began half century ago, and, unfortunately, many who deceive the bounty of their government have been shown to be the most unworthy; but even those who need and deserve the pension are not worthier to receive it than are those who have served long and faithfully in the army of the church militant.

That there are many ministers of very limited intellectual capacity is true, but upon the whole they are not only as intelligent as those engaged in every other vocation, but are, in the main, devoted, unselfish, self-sacrificing and poor.

While there are many preachers who would not be successful in any secular vocation, it is just as true that there are many who would be forceful factors in any field of industry and enterprise, but who, in obedience to their convictions of duty, put aside and give their whole thought and care and service to the welfare of their fellow men.

Taken as a whole, there can be found no where a more self-sacrificing, unselfish body of men than are the ministers of the various religious denominations of this country. They give the full strength and vigor of their lives to the service of their master, generally for most inadequate stipends. They are paid salaries so meager that it is beyond all possibility for them to accumulate a fund for a "rainy day" and in nine instances out of ten they approach the sunset of life not only poor in purse, but unfitted for toiling at any secular pursuit, and hence many of them are dependent upon relatives or upon the support of the churches.

Cuban Sugar.

The British steamer, Indianapolis, which arrived in Galveston last week from Havana, brought the sixth sugar cargo that has been received at this port for the Sugarland Refineries during the past few months.

The cargo consisted of 20,000 bags of sugar, valued at approximately $300,000, and after being weighed and sampled, the sugar will be shipped to Sugarland to be refined.

Every ship that comes to Galveston loaded with sugar affords cheaper rates back to Cuba for Texas products, such as rice, packing house products, cotton seed oil, cattle, flour, corn food, stuffs, stock food and a great many other things.

This instance illustrates one of the many benefits which accrue to the people of Texas by having large manufacturing concerns located in the state and one of the greatest encouragements that can be given a firm is to patronize its products.

Tribute Paid at Home

The Stevensville Tribune in reporting the recent death of Grandpa Lockhart in that town, a report of which was published in the Signal, after noting that he was converted and began preaching while yet a mere youth says further:

For 72 years he manfully battled at the citadel of Satan, and helped more than any other Baptist minister in Texas to uplift men and women and make them live purer and better lives. His was a stormy life, too, with many, many hardships to endure, and obstacles of almost insurmountable proportions to overcome, but in all his efforts he succeeded. In early preaching days his pathway was not entirely strewn with roses. There were times when the meat barrel seemed as if it would become entirely empty, but he had an abiding confidence that a way would be provided, and he never lost hope or courage. And in those early days—some 72 years ago, remember—Baptist churches were few and far apart, and the country was almost in its primeval condition, but the few people there, were poor but generous, and helped the cause Mr. Lockhart represented as best they could, and when preaching day came it was no unusual thing for a pioneer to travel 20 miles to hear this rugged man of the Baptist faith point out the way to the better life. There were no churches with slender spires pointing heavenward, no organs to chime in with the human voices to soften and mellow the tones—nothing to awaken in man that feeling of spiritual awe except the story of Jesus Christ that the preacher knew so well how to tell, and this attracted worshippers. He preached under arbores, and abided patiently the time until people could build churches, and lived to see fine structures reared on spots where he had once preached under an arbor or tree. But when a man has preached the gospel for seventy years, and the major portion of this time in a country just beginning to feel the pulsation of an awakened civilization his life is filled with interesting reminiscences, and no life lived in Texas had more of these than the beloved old man whose remains went back to mother earth on September 5th.

The Joy of Home Building.

Honesty has its birthplace in the home and in the heart of the generation receives its inspiration from the fireside. The imagination can conceive of no pleasure greater than that of a happy home. No man can become fully qualified for citizenship until the joys of home building have enriched his life.

We have in Texas 548,600 homes and of this number 416,377 are rural and 132,223 urban. We spend $50,000,000 per annum in building homes. We build 137 homes a day.

Cupid is a home builder. We have approximately 60,000 marriages per annum and yet we have 400,000 unmarried women of marriageable age. Cupid is not doing more marriages, more families and more homes.

Opponents of Senator Bailey and many of his friends believe that the voluntary retirement of the Senator will do much to harmonize the democratic party in Texas, but it will not be so if Ousley is to succeed him. Ousley has been the mouthpiece and intemper defender of Bailey for several years and seems to get his ideas from the Gainesville man.

An ominous cloud came up Sunday evening from the northwest. There was considerable lightning and some thunder but only a very light sprinkle of rain.
